Report on Blended Learning- A Stepping Stone to enhance Digital Learning

Date: 23/08/2022

FDP/SDP : FDP

Objective: To create awareness among the students about NSS and to explain the role of them in various activities.

Number of Participants: 19

Organizer: IQAC in association with Clara's College of Education and CWC Law College

Objective: To understand the concept and need of blended learning in education in today's digitalization world.

Report

Blended learning is a combination of offline and online education which enables students to interact with the instructor, and other students both through physical classroom and online platforms. As Covid-19 forced the requirement for social distancing, this outcome hit every sector significantly, which includes education. Students and teachers faced diverse challenges in these difficult times of Covid, giving rise to methods that can help avoid social interaction and at the same time, ensure the continuation of quality education. Students and educational institutes were forced to adopt distance learning methods like e-learning, virtual classrooms, online repositories, etc.

IQAC of Clara's College Of Commerce in association with Clara's College of Education and CWC Law college organized a Faculty Development Programme on Blended Learning- A Stepping Stone to enhance Digital Learning " on 23rd August 2022 ,by a Dr. Ratnaprabha Rajmane , who is principal of Clara's College of Education was a resource person. In the welcome address, Mrs. Jisha Verghese , gave an introduction on the program and introduced the participants to the theme 'Blended Learning- A Stepping Stone to enhance Digital Learning'.

In the 1st session , Dr. Ratnaprabha Rajamne said that in Blended Mode of Teaching and Learning, the role of a teacher changes, from being just an education provider to a trainer and a guardian. Role of teacher in Blended Learning environment is not limited to the "Sage on the Stage" but becomes Creator, designer, and supporter of teaching-

ing to design new experiences combining in-class and out-of-class activities several resources, digital and non-digital learning materials. In the second session ers of Clara's College Of Education given live demonstration of blended learning cation.

ession concluded with a short question and answer session followed by vote of s proposed by Mr. Shripad Joshi.

Outcome: Participants understood the concept and need of blended learning in education in today's digitalized world.

Class: All Classes

Mode: Offline

Number of Participants: 64

Department : IQAC & All Departments

Resource Person: Ms. Poonam

Clara's College of Commerce conducted an Add on course on Website Development from 20th June, 2022 to 2nd July, 2022. Following were the objectives of this course:

Objectives:

1. Use their learned skills, knowledge and abilities to develop web sites for the internet.
2. Apply basic design principles to present ideas, information, products, and services on websites.
3. Apply basic programming principles to the construction of websites.
4. A website course objective is used to organize specific topics or individual learning activities to achieve the overall learning outcome.
5. Course objectives reflect specific knowledge, skills, abilities, or competencies that instructors expect students to acquire from a particular course.

Report:

Sessions were conducted from 10:00 am to 1:00 pm (03 hours) everyday, following topics have been covered each day:

1. Introduction to web development
2. Website structure and hosting
3. Progressive web apps (PWAs)
4. Express framework, building scalable web applications
5. Multimedia and its applications
6. Web technologies
7. Computer graphics

- 8. Web Applications
- 9. HTML & CSS
- 10. Database

Web development typically refers to the coding and programming side of website production. When you learn web development, you might start out writing a simple page of HTML text and build up to creating more complex, feature-rich applications designed to be accessed from various Internet-connected devices.

Most introductory web development courses aim to teach the basics of HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. These three languages form the foundation upon which all websites are built. Taking a web development course is an exciting opportunity to learn the basics of HTML or HyperText Markup Language.

Web development is the work involved in developing a web site for the Internet, or an intranet. Web development can range from developing a simple single static page of plain text to complex web-based internet applications, electronic businesses, and social network services.

Outcome:

- 1. Enabled the learner with practical skills.
 - 2. Analyze and finalize books of accounts.
 - 3. Understand the concepts of Design and develop Application Programming Interfaces (APIs)
- Meet both technical and consumer needs for a web development project.

Report on Online Add on Course on Financial Literacy

Date: 10th November to 21st November 2022

Duration : 30 hours

SDP/FDP: SDP

Class: all Classes

Mode: Online

Number of Participants: 75

Department : IQAC & All Departments

Objective: The college provides an array of Add-on opportunities to the students, with the central objective of supplementing their academic curricula even as they pursue their own university courses within the stipulated period. The objectives of the financial literacy short-term course are to increase participants' awareness of financial concepts, enhance their practical skills in budgeting and money management, foster a responsible attitude towards financial decision-making, build confidence in dealing with financial matters, prepare them for future financial planning, promote economic empowerment, and encourage lifelong learning. These objectives collectively aim to empower participants with the knowledge, skills, and mindset necessary to navigate the complexities of personal finance successfully and achieve financial security and well-being in the long term.

1. Introduction

This report provides an overview and assessment of the 10-days online Add on Course on 'Financial Literacy' conducted at Clara's College of Commerce for all classes. The course was a 10 days short term course from 10th November to 21st November 2022. The program, led by Dr. Advait, a renowned expert in finance and economics, brought a wealth of knowledge and practical insights to the course. With advanced degrees in finance and years of experience in academia and industry, Dr. Advait was well-equipped to guide participants through the complexities of financial literacy. His expertise and passion for the subject ensured a comprehensive and enriching learning experience for all participants. He aimed to equip participants with essential knowledge and skills in personal finance management, investment strategies, and understanding economic trends. The duration of the course was 30 hours. Around Seventy - Five (75) students enrolled in the course, and all students successfully completed the course.

2. Course Structure:

The course spanned over 10 days and covered a diverse range of topics crucial for understanding financial concepts and practices. Each day focused on a specific aspect of financial literacy, including:

Over the span of ten days, participants will embark on an immersive journey into the realm of financial literacy. Each day of the program is meticulously designed to cover essential topics, starting with an introduction to financial literacy on Day 1, providing participants with Additional knowledge. Day 2 delves into budgeting and money management, equipping individuals with practical skills to manage their finances effectively. Banking and financial services are explored on Day 3, followed by a deep dive into understanding credit and debt management on Day 4. As the program progresses, participants gain insights into Investment Basics on Day 5 and an Introduction to the Stock Market on Day 6, laying the groundwork for informed financial decision-making. Day 7 shifts focus to Retirement Planning and insurance, essential components of long-term financial security. Taxation and Financial planning take center stage on Day 8, guiding participants through the complexities of tax systems and strategic financial planning. Economic trends and Market Analysis are addressed on Day 9, providing participants with tools to interpret market dynamics and make informed investment decisions. The program culminates in a comprehensive wrap-up and Review on Day 10, allowing participants to reflect on their learning journey and solidify their understanding of key concepts. Through this structured approach, participants emerge with heightened financial literacy and the confidence to navigate various aspects of personal finance adeptly.

3. Learning outcome:

Participants in the course gained essential skills in personal finance, including budgeting, banking, credit management, and investment strategies. They learned to analyze stock market trends, plan for retirement, optimize financial planning, and interpret economic indicators. This comprehensive learning empowered them to make informed financial decisions and secure their financial futures effectively.

Feedback from participants was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing appreciation for the practical relevance of the course content. Participants found the interactive sessions and real-life examples particularly helpful in understanding complex financial concepts. Suggestions for improvement included incorporating more hands-on activities and providing additional resources for further learning.

The 10-days Add-on course on financial literacy at Clara's College of Commerce was a resounding success, empowering students with essential knowledge and skills to navigate the complex world of finance confidently. The program's comprehensive curriculum, experienced faculty, and interactive teaching methods contributed to its effectiveness in achieving its objectives. Such initiatives play a crucial role in promoting financial awareness and fostering responsible financial practices among the youth.
