Respected Sir,

As per the discussions held between your Educational Institute & Ourselves this is to place on record that we Screenwriters Guild of India and Clara's College of Commerce shall be conducting Workshops "Writing for Films, Television & Web" as and when required.

The workshops will enlighten students on how to convert story to screenplay (Concept to Script) along with technicalities required for writing for Films, Television & Web. We shall also guide students on how to participate/win in various film festivals/competitions.

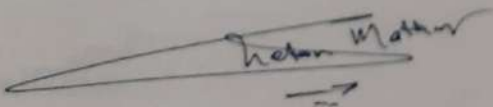

SGI will provide Industry Practising Writers for conducting the workshop. The logistics regarding the same will be handled by Clara's College of Commerce.

The promotion, publicity & media reports will carry joint exposure of both SGI & Clara's College of Commerce.

Certificate for successfully completing/attending the same will be given to attendees which will have logo and name equally shared between SGI & Clara's College of Commerce.

Looking forward to a fruitful collaboration.

Warm wishes
for SCREENWRITERS GUILD OF INDIA
